

Ari Deller

PHD CANDIDATE IN PHILOSOPHY · UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE

ad2328@cam.ac.uk · arideller.github.io · ORCID 0009-0001-1534-6800

EDUCATION AND AFFILIATION

2024–2027	University of Cambridge — PhD in Philosophy Thesis: Epistemic Agency and Practical Pressures Supervisors: Jessie Munton and Richard Holton Specialisation: Epistemology, Ethics, AI Fully funded by a Peterhouse Graduate Studentship. Only one such studentship was awarded to hundreds of applicants across all Cambridge humanities departments.
Spring 2025	Massachusetts Institute of Technology — Visiting PhD Researcher Supervisor: Rachel Fraser
2022–2024	University of Oxford — BPhil in Philosophy Accumulative average: 69 (GPA equivalent: 3.9) Supervised in Epistemology, Ethics, Philosophy of Religion by David Enoch, Daniela Dover, T.J. Mawson Awarded the Studentship in the Humanities, covering full tuition and living stipend. Only three such studentships are awarded to thousands of applicants across all Oxford humanities.
2018–2022	University of Edinburgh — MA (Hons) in Philosophy First Class (74) (GPA equivalent: 4.0) James Seth Prize for Moral Philosophy; Katherina Bauer Prize for Honours Philosophy

GRANTS AND FELLOWSHIPS

2026	Cosmos Institute — Grant, AI x Truth-Seeking ($6,000) To develop HumanRationalityBench, a benchmark tracking whether different large language models degrade or improve human rationality, and under what circumstances.
Jul–Sep 2026	ERA:AI — Governance Fellow Ten-week fully funded independent research fellowship in Cambridge, UK. Admission rate of 0.5%. Research on AI persuasion and harmful manipulation, including a working definition and risk-tier assessment of harmful manipulation for the EU AI Office and frontier-lab safety frameworks.
Summer 2026	Life Worth Living — Graduate Pedagogy Fellow Fellowship and in-person retreat at Yale for academics in undergraduate pedagogy.
Summer 2025	University of London — AI Fellow Competitive fellowship won under the London AI and Humanity Project .
2024, 2025	Cambridge AI Safety Hub — AI Policy Fellow (Autumn 2024; Autumn 2025)

PUBLICATIONS

Under review	Blameworthy Belief: Moral Failure without Doxastic Wronging Philosophy and Phenomenological Research
--------------	---

- 2026 The Epistemic Costs of Super-Persuasive AI
Philosophy & Technology 39(2), article 92. PUBLISHED VERSION · PHILPAPERS
- 2023 Review of Samuel Lebens, A Guide for the Jewish Undecided
Religious Studies Review 49: 212–213. PUBLISHED VERSION

WORKS IN PROGRESS

- 2026 How to Govern ‘Harmful Manipulation’ in Frontier AI — paper; draft available on request
- 2026 Conceptualising and Assessing Harmful Manipulation in Safety Frameworks — policy memo to the EU AI Office; available on request
- 2026 HumanRationalityBench — benchmark; draft available on request
- In progress A Critique of ‘Conceptual Extension Projects’ in the Philosophy of AI
- In progress Care as a Ground of Epistemic Normativity
- In preparation Authenticity in Belief: or, Knowing What You Think

TALKS

- 2026 ‘Can AIs be X?’: A Critique of AI Scholarship
 Yale Teleology Conference, Yale University, May 2026; Normative Theory & AI Group, University of Cambridge, March 2026
- 2025 AI Trust and Testimony
 Postgraduate Seminar, University of Cambridge, November 2025
- 2024–2025 An Attitudes-First Account of Doxastic Wronging
 Graduate Conference in Political Theory, LSE, May 2025; MATTI, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, April 2025; Postgraduate Seminar, University of Cambridge, January 2025; Early Career Research Showcase, University of Cambridge, December 2024
- 2025 A Care-Based Grounding of Epistemic Normativity
 Postgraduate Seminar, University of Cambridge, April 2025
- 2024 Perspectives are Subject to Propositional Defeat
 Ockham Society, University of Oxford, May 2024
- 2024 The Challenge that Mysteries Present to Natural Theology
 Rutgers Analytic Theology Seminar, Rutgers University, March 2024
- 2024 Higher-Order Evidence Harms the Self
 Ockham Society, University of Oxford, February 2024
- 2023 An Epistemic Analogue of Strawson’s Participant-Objective Stance Distinction
 Ockham Society, University of Oxford, August 2023
- 2023 What G-d Would Do: A Challenge for ‘Divine Subjunctive Action’ Arguments Concerning G-d’s Existence
 Oxford Philosophical Theology Graduate Discussion Group, June 2023

TEACHING

Ethics

- 2026–2027 Moral Responsibility and Implicit Beliefs — lectures, University of Cambridge
- 2026–2027 Practical Ethics — private tutoring, University of Oxford course
- 2024–2027 Part 1B Ethics — seminars, University of Cambridge
- 2024–2026 Part 1B Ethics — supervisions, University of Cambridge
- 2024–2026 Part 1A Ethics — seminars, University of Cambridge

Political Philosophy

2024–2025 Part 2 Political Philosophy — supervisions, University of Cambridge

Metaphysics

2025–2027 Part 1A Metaphysics — seminars, University of Cambridge

Epistemology

2026–2027 Part 1B Knowledge, Language and World — supervisions on the Knowledge component, University of Cambridge

2023–2024 Knowledge and Reality — tutorials, University of Oxford

Philosophy of AI

2026–2027 Dissertation on the ethics of AI — supervision, University of Cambridge

Logic

2023–2024 Introduction to Logic — teaching assistant, University of Oxford

Academic Writing

2022–2023 Academic Philosophical Writing — tutorials, University of Oxford

SERVICE

2026–present	Co-convener , Kinds of Intelligence Reading Group, Leverhulme Centre for the Future of Intelligence, University of Cambridge (with Joachim Nicolodi)
2025–present	Co-convener , Cambridge Episteme Research Group (with Tatiana Sitnikova and Lena Wang)
2023–2026	Reviewer , Social Epistemology (2026); Synthese (2025); Oxford Graduate Philosophy Conference (2023)
2023–2024	Committee Member , Jowett Society, University of Oxford
2020–2021	General Editor , PENSE (Edinburgh University Philosophy Society's journal)

OTHER WRITING*Public Writing and Student Academic Publications*

2023	Criticising the Argument for Moral Particularism from Moral Reasons Holism (with a reply from well-known proponent of Moral Particularism, Jonathan Dancy) — Oxford Philosophy Society Journal 1: 18–24
2020	Redemption, not cancellation, should be the goal (with Laura Janner-Klausner) — Financial Times , September 2020
2020	For some Jews, passports are a moral conundrum (with Laura Janner-Klausner) — UnHerd , November 2020
2020	The Moral and Theological Implications of Doxastic Wronging (with Laura Janner-Klausner) — Limmud Conference, December 2020